

Marburg Online and Hybrid Spring 2021 Program

Part I of II: German Language and Culture

Even if you cannot physically travel to Germany at the moment, grab this six-week opportunity to start or advance your knowledge of German and Germany!

In the language component of our program, we offer live teaching, interaction with fellow learners from all over the globe, self-study accommodating your own speed and schedule, a buddy to practice your skills with – and all this for credit.

The part on German Culture includes topics like Politics in Germany & the EU, History & the German Education System, Religions, Integration and Inclusion in Germany. You will work and study with the whole class as well as in smaller working groups.

We round up the experience with virtual tours of our city as well as institutions like the “Bundestag” and other destinations.

You will get an orientation to the program, meet the Marburg team, have frequent check-ins for all your questions, and enjoy German-style food in our cooking sessions.

Part II: Subject Classes from the general course catalogue – with short-term stay on campus as an option

If you have the capacity, stay on for more classes!

Our regular semester classes are part of the regular Marburg University curriculum as found in the University course catalogue. These courses are not focused on aspects related solely to Germany, but have an international focus.

You can either take classes online. Or, if circumstances permit, travel to Marburg for in-class teaching.

Take it all in - we would love to have you join us!
